

What can A New Public Market in Brooklyn Center look like?

The City of Brooklyn Center, with their community partners, is creating a Small Business Incubator to support local entrepreneurs and help them grow. The Incubator will be part of a new housing development, and will include a new public market plaza to help these businesses sell their products. The design team wants to hear what you would like to see in this space, and what would attract you to go there.

1. Online survey: <https://www.tfaforms.com/4857211>

Please go to this survey and share your thoughts on the project. We will raffle off $50 gift cards to local restaurants to thank you for your participation for surveys completed before 10/19/2020.

2. Zoom Design Discussion: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/81501843620>
11am Saturday, October 24

Using the feedback from the online surveys, the design team will create concept designs to discuss with the community. Please log in and tell us what you think!

Find additional information about the project, please go to:
<http://bit.ly/BCMP2020>

Also keep an eye out for a new interactive sculpture!